TO MY FELLOW HOBBISTS,

With our first auction of the year now behind us, we embark on Round 2 for 2009. In honor of the 100th anniversary of the T206 set, our current auction features a completely SGC graded base set missing only the "Big 4." The Plank and Magie are offered as well. Our much-discussed innovation of a "tiered buyer’s premium" was met with mostly positive comments, so we are sticking with it. It really does put more money in the consignor’s pocket for high-end items and saves money for bidders as well. We, as always, welcome your feedback, which keeps us focused and committed to bringing you the best auction in all facets.

Our team at Huggins and Scott has once again assembled a fantastic array of rare, unusual and one-of-a-kind items for this sale. Dave Stoddard continues to outdo himself, adding new features that keep our site simple and user friendly. Our head writer Kevin Hef fner has added yet another writer to his staff, Andy (Country) Curtis, who joins Mark Raines, James Feagin, and Matt Flores as the pen and ink, while Colin Corbin and his staff have again treated us to some stunning images. Mark Spinrad and Jamey Austin have swept the catalog for #@%#’s, while John Wulcan and Stefan Wünski have given Mike and Sally Henry the "canvas and paint" they need for them to create another masterpiece.

Kris Fraley did another amazing job, sending out almost 1400 lots in a safe and timely manner. Great job, Kris!! Barry Malkin’s eagle eyes have once again spotted some high-grade gems!!

Our constantly growing nationwide staff of consignor reps (now at 35 strong), led by the tireless Steve Dickler, have gathered another fine assortment of “goodies.” Should you have items or an entire collection you are thinking about selling, a full list of our well-qualified reps, along with their contact info, is available in this catalog. Call them. You’ll be surprised how much money we can get for you and how fast!!!

The ladies of Huggins and Scott Auctions: Nancy, Janet, Stef, Kristie, Brooke, Greta, Gail and Allison always get their own “Paragraph of Thanks” for putting up with our late hours and countless phone calls.

Our final and foremost thanks always goes out to our consignors and bidders. From A to Z in both categories you continue to amaze us with the material you turn up and the integrity with which you conduct yourselves in all aspects of our dealings. The friendships we have made out of the trust you have placed in us are immeasurable, and for that we are always grateful.

I hope you enjoy our latest catalog, and feel free to call us anytime with questions, comments or suggestions.

Good Luck

About Our Autographs:
All autographs sold thru Huggins & Scott Auctions come with either a JSA - James Spence Authentication, our most used, PSA/DNA, Upper Deck Authenticated (UDA), Stacks of Plates, Kevin Keating or Steiner COA’s. Some even have more than one. At Huggins & Scott, we take great pride in only offering “IRONCLAD”, “LEAD PIPE”, “NO QUESTIONS ASKED” autographs. In today’s world of autographs, secretarial, clubhouse and ghost signers, you can rest assured that your autographed items from H & S have passed the most stringent examination.

Multiple Autographed Item Lot LOA’s: On lots with more than one autographed item, we will issue one blanket auction letter of authenticity for the entire lot. This is the original letter that we receive from the authentication company describing the offered lot. This is the only way that these lots can be sold through any auction house, rest assured though, the lots have been thoroughly examined in detail, to assure their authenticity. Issuing individual letters for each autographed item would not be possible, in terms of cost. You may use the original auction LOA to obtain individual LOA’s should you chose to do that. Please call if you have any questions regarding these auction lot LOA’s.

One Very Important Note: Certain Lots That Contain a Larger Number of Autographed Pieces, While Accompanied by a LOA, May Contain a Small Smattering of Clubhouse, Secretarial or Pre-Printed Autographs. These Are Part of the Lot and Are Non-Returnable or Refundable.

About Our Grading:
Many lots, throughout the auction have been Professionally graded and encapsulated by independent grading companies. Our highly educated writers have graded many other lots. For the most part, these are conservative grades, but we are human and sometimes we may miss something. We strongly recommend that you come look at any items that you are bidding on, and make your own determination about its grade.

Becoming one of Our Field Representatives:
Huggins and Scott Auctions is a constantly growing company. Since our last auction (February 2009), we have added more staff as well as field representatives in four additional locations. Should you have an interest in joining our staff, we are always looking for part-time field representatives in new areas. Call our main office toll-free 1-866-462-2273 and ask for Bill Huggins; it’s a no lose situation for you, as well as a chance to make some serious money.

Consignments For Our Next Auction:
We have already received hundreds of consignments for our next September 2009 auction. By consigning your items early, you allow us the opportunity to advertise your items on our website, in trade publications and press releases, as well as at major shows across the country. This is an invaluable way to expose your items to thousands of current bidders and possible new bidders, who can then plan ahead to bid on your items. Believe me, it happened!

We are always looking for unique Americanica items to try in our catalog. Even if you have something you don’t see (primarily 1960’s and older, though), feel free to call us and discuss it. You may have a pile of gold that’s just hidden under a little dust, or needs the right exposure!

   White Border SGC
   Graded Near Set
   (520/524)—Missing the Big Four
   A century has passed since the early summer of 1909 when the American Tobacco Company (ATC) began an advertising campaign to market packages of Piedmont, Sweet Caporal and Sovereign cigarettes by distributing cardboard renderings of contemporary baseball stars. Though the full-page advertisements did not mention the other brands associated with the consortium, the “110 Series” became a runaway success on both the national and regional levels (“The Encyclopedia of Baseball Card, Volume 5—20th Century Tobacco Cards,” 1986, Lipsett). From the research of Scott Rote, an article from the August 9, 1909 edition of the Chicago Observer, “Since the beginning of summer, when the American Tobacco Company commenced putting the pictures in their packages of cigarettes, the small boy has been more or less of a nuisance by stopping young and old men as they walked along the streets shopping for ‘baseball men.’” Although tobacco cards had been collected for decades, the notion of what was to be designated as T206 helped fuel the baseball card collecting hobby. Securing examples from this famed set is considered a rite of passage, as building a tangible piece of baseball history often leads to a lifelong pursuit of cardboard memorabilia.

Excluding the experts at the 1909-1911 T206 Eddie Plank Absent from most advanced collections, preventing less than 100 examples exist. In concealing the majority of such specimens are professionally graded, services PSA and SGC have judged a combined 59 copies. Was a printing plate broken early in production? Did Plank object to the use of his image on tobacco products, knowing children would seek to obtain these cards? The speculation is rampant, but the remaining fact is the offered 1909-1911 T206 Eddie White Border Eddie Plank is one of the most coveted tobacco cards in the hobby.    3. 1909 T206 Sherry Magie (Magee) Error SGC 10

   As one of the “Big Four” entries of the 1909-1911 T206 White Border series, the offered Sherry Magie (Magee) error will assuredly garner much interest from tobacco card enthusiasts. Graded 10 Poor 1 by SGC, only 32 similar copies have been judged by the service. The surname of the Phillies star was spelled incorrectly in the earliest print run. For unspecified reasons, Magee’s last name was corrected while others were not. Perhaps the most prominent of “error” cards, this antiquity is a remarkable accomplishment for the aspiring 1909-1911 T206 White Border market collector.

178. 1917-1921 Ty Cobb Hillerich & Bradsby Decal Bat

While it was clear that nobody could match Ty Cobb’s urbane dispositions and temperament, it wasn’t beyond the dreams of baseball aspirants to attempt to match the Georgia Peach’s hitting proficiency (albeit on the sandlots). In compliance with those Cobb fans, Kentucky’s Hillerich & Bradsby turned weapons like the offered Ty Cobb decal bat. Manufactured during the 1917-1921 labeling period (as evidenced by the “dash-dot_dash” feature in the center brand), this (37.2oz/35”) high-grade ash example boasts the look, feel and dimensions of the war club that Cobb himself used to wield, but its retail status is learned when beholding the “40 TC” stamping (a “40 cents” retail cost indicator). On the barrel, a colorful decal shows Cobb in his left-handed stance with “Georgia Peach” emblazoned in angled characters. The decal itself is affected by flaking, but still remains about 70 percent complete with Cobb’s facsimile signature reflecting that same portion of completeness. The uncracked lumber features a flare knob and, although it shows no chipping, the colorful decal portraying “Shoeless Joe” is easily recognizable. The original black tape is gone, and the stamped trademark reveals moderate wear along the left portion. The remainder of the bat displays aged dark wood but still retains aesthetically pleasing.

181. 1911 Athletics Figural “White Elephant” Trophy - Ultra Rare!

With absolutely no intent of inspiring, former New York Giant skipper John McGraw referred to the Philadelphia Athletics collectively as a “white elephant that nobody want- ed.” That was 1901. With conviction and éclat, Athletics skip- per and owner Connie Mack embraced the moniker and, for two successive spans in the 20th century, guided its dynasty to pennant and World Series runs comparable (if not more impressive) to those of the Yankees. The offered relic is an ultra rare and unique piece of baseball hardware: an Athletics figural “White Elephant” trophy crafted to celebrate the club’s 1911 World Series title. Shaped to a 5-5/8” x 2-5/8” x 2-3/4”, deep platform with a felt-lined button, a 5-1/2” tall white ele- phant has its trunk hoisted high, as if to roar with excitement in answer to McGraw and those of his ilk. The (4) vertical sides of the platform each have reverse-letter proclamations, including “ATHLETICS - CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD 1911” and “BASEBALL CLUB OF PHILADELPHIA.” Opened at both ends is a highly ornate “AMERICA” and “DINNER – HOTEL ASTOR NEW YORK – DECEMBER 12, 1911,” likely comprised of bronze with a vintage coat of white paint, the item has endured nearly a cen- tury with only minor paint loss at the edges. Of the four or five known surviving examples, this is significantly the best. The fragile trunk, tusks and tail are often broken off, or the entire figure is disarticulated. This item will offer no adhesives. For detailed descriptions of these items, please visit our website.

186. 1922 Polo Grounds World Series Press Pin

Presented in a press pass from the 1922 World Series, the final October tilt before the New York Yankees moved to the Bronx and promptly hosted its first of 26 world championship flags. Unlike the vast majority of these keep-sakes (which have been issued since 1911), this particular design was shared by both series contenders, as they both called the Polo Grounds home. This oval-profiled piece features a blue-and-white enamelled facing with a crossed bat and ball design. In Greek text, “1922 GIANTS – YANKEES” accents the blue center while “WORLD SERIES – POLO GROUNDS – NEW YORK” lines the white enameled perimeter (with slight wear along the upper edges) in like fashion. On the reverse, the plushback and clip are intact and fully-functional and an “Ishidair & Haase” manufacturer’s stamping (lightly stained). While the All-New World Series World became an annual event in the 1930s, the 1927 tilt was the only one regularly at the “best” Giants, displaced over being out-drawn by the Ruth-led Yankees, terminated the league and sent their A.L. counterparts packing.

In celebration of the club’s 1983 National League title, rings such as the offered prize were awarded to players and team personnel. Familiarity, intent and purpose were definitive factors in the investment, as Huggins had enjoyed for the Saints the same kind of “analytical” of the turn of the century and had a working relationship with the club’s new president, Robert Connery, who had served as a Yankee scout from 1918 through 1924. Printed on black stock that measures 10-1/4 x 3-1/4, this two-sided document features a visual design that resembles U.S. currency, with additional features including the state seal of Minnesota and a St. Paul Base Ball Club stamping. Dated February 4, 1925, the front of the document features legal language printed in normal caps font and is accented by the seal of the city of Saint Paul (“9-10”). On the reverse, Huggins has inscribed a black ink fountain pen signature that shows every bit of (“9-10”) quality. Sourced from the Uttar Shocet collection, Huggins is easily the toughest and highly sought from the 1920s Yankee dynasty. While there are remnants of (2) strips of double-sided tape on the reverse (not Huggins’ inscriptions), the item presents well with (2) normal creasing folds but no creases or tears. Accompanying is an auction LOA from James Spence Authentications.
Opening Bid $300.00

The signatures on the appropriate likenesses project (“9-10”) and include Earle Combs, Art Fletcher (coach), Tony Lazzeri and Wilcy Moore. Sourced for (2) insufficient features atop the Combs page, strength throughout and ready for display. While each is valuable in its own right, the autographs of Lazzeri and Fletcher are coveted because those men passed in 1935 and 1946, respectively. Accompanying is an auction LOA from James Spence Authentications.

383. Moses Thomas 1936 Signed Letter
The original correspondence piece is compressed and signed by 1920-1929 New York Yankee pitcher Myles Thomas. Typewritten on 8-1/2 x 11 “Tiffins Mad Rum” letterhead, this typewritten letter was authored and signed by Thomas when he served as a managerial capacity in May 1936. In reply to a manage or execute a transaction from another club, the letter details the reasons that Thomas can or cannot use certain players at specific positions. In regard to a second baseman named “Babe,” Thomas explains that his club already has a leadoff man in that position and that “to replace him would be like nailing up the entrance of the park.” Further along, Thomas tells how one of the catchers left the name “either through an offer of a better job or fear of someone stealing his best girl.” At the conclusion, Thomas’ black ink signature projects (“9-10”) strength and clarity. The page has some minor red marks (likely cigarette pencil) and a pencil notation at the upper left. Fine of creases or tears, the item presents quite nicely, with (2) normal horizontal mailing folds. Accompanying is an auction LOA from James Spence Authentications.

511. 1937 Washington Redskins Accounting Ledger

512. 1961-1963 Washington Redskins Face Bobbin’ Head
Nearly two decades after the NFL first became a popular players-to-suit-up, the Bobbin’ Head industry was integrated, too. Offered is a similar example of the most coveted of these unique variations: a 1961-1963 Washington Redskins “black box” doll. Standing approximately 6-1/2” tall, this figure is secured in a square base on which “NFL” appears in raised character. Fully functional with a Native American-themed feather down the center of the helmet, the doll shows (NM) quality with absolutely no hairline cracks along the neckline and three “blick line” specs along the sturdy ceramic base. “Black Face” modifiers are considered very difficult, as few were made and even fewer sur- vived considering that they were made of paper-mache. This is like- ly to trump all examples in any collection.

513. Super Bowl XVII Replica Trophy
Subject to grueling conditions, extreme weather conditions at both ends of the thermometer and punishing blows from opponents, the NFL participant endures a career that averages just over three years. Thus, it stands to reason that the Vince Lombardi Trophy is far and away the most coveted prize for anyone who ever suits up for trench warfare. Offered is one such example: a Super Bowl XVII Vince Lombardi replica trophy. Baring striking resemblance to the actual hardware, this plast- ic helmet is crafted from polished nickel and is secured to a triangular wooden base. All told, the 9-1/2” piece measures 17” tall with a silver-hand football accentuating a lengthy egg-shaped trophy whose swagging whiteout precludes the Sunday supremacy of the 1982 Washington Redskins. Flanking an NFL logo badge, the engravings read: “VINCE LOMBARDI TROPHY” and “SUPER BOWL XVII AFC vs. NFC.” (Bear Bowl, Published in California January 30, 1985.) Washington Redskins 27 Miami Dolphins 17 “In arranging a Super Bowl loss” in the same opponent 10 season earlier, the Redskins turned that day to John Riggins, whose 181 yards from scrimmage were more than Miami’s entire team output. Certain to be the center attraction in virtually any setting, this represents arguably the world’s most readily recognized trophy. There is no way to identify the manufacturer because of antigraph copyright laws in reproducing the trophy. Individual player trophies were discontinued in 1977 and the only legally made example today is the one crafted by Tiffany’s for display in the winning team’s trophy case. This will be as close as any of us mere mortals will ever get to obtaining the real thing. Don’t let this one slip away!

A four-bar facemask secures a snuber on which “DOLPHINS” appears in team base, just above the right-side logo. Marino’s black marker signature and inscription of “13 shows (4)” strength. Within the cromes, foam rubber padding cells are affixed to the front, back, crown and jaws (though the crown pad has become disengaged). Manufacturer’s “WARNING” decals reside within the crown and at the back right while (2) Rawlings trademarks appear at the back.
